To Business Men.

The Titusville MORNING HERALD has now a circulation of nearly ONE THOUSAND COPIES in Crawford and Venango counties Hence Business Men can see at once its peculiar advantages as an advertising medium They can thus present their invitations to buy to the very class of readers who have the money to buy with and who are sure to seek that market which seems to present the most inducements The only way for business men to increase their business and attract custom is to let the public know what they have to sell, and familiarize the public eye with their names and business vocation This can only be done by constant and judicious advertising

Varieties.

—The Black Crook is to exhibit here on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings next

—The act declaring Lycoming county an additional judicial district has passed both branches of the Legislature, and now only awaits the Governor's signature to become a law

—A Democratic Justice of the Peace in Clinton township Clarion county has been granting divorces for the past year or two This is some what of an improvement on the law

—It is rumored the Schuylkill River is about to be surveyed by a Board of Surveyors from Philadelphia, with a view to determine the practicability of steamboat navigation as far as Reading

—The West Chester Record says that the citizens of Waynesburg will urge the present Legislature to erect a new county to be composed of parts of Berks, Lancaster and Chester, with Waynesburg as the county seat

—The last performance of the Old Folks will take place this evening We presume there will be a crowded audience No seats have been reserved, except for the accommodation of visitors from neighboring towns

—Several of the Philadelphia newspapers denounce the Petroleum Inspectorship bill in most gorgeous terms as tending to drive trade from that city to New York The marvel is not that they condemn it, but that they did not commence sooner

—An interesting case, from the Court of Chester county, was decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, a few days since Dr Thompson purchased the medical practice of Dr McClurg, at West Grove, Chester county but afterwards Dr McClurg again commenced practice at that place Dr Thompson entered suit against him, and asked for an injunction to restrain McClurg from practicing at West Grove This injunction was granted by the Court of Chester county, from which decision the defendant appealed to the Supreme Court This tribunal affirms the decision of the Court below, and Mr McClurg is therefore restrained from practicing as a physician at West Grove The decision is an important one

—Governor Geary has issued his proclamation offering a reward of two thousand dollars for the discovery and conviction of the murderer or murderers of John Casey, one of the most important witnesses before the Committee on the contested election case of Robison, Republican, against Shughart, Democrat, from the Twenty first Senatorial District It seems that the Committee were in Clearfield county, and Casey testified in favor of Robinson, and against some of the illegal voting Soon after he was waylaid, and so cruelly beaten that he died in a few days after Three persons were arrested, but were released on a writ of habeas corpus The principal, however, is supposed to be still at large, and is perhaps in Clearfield county

WESTON BEHIND TIME —A considerable disappointment was occasioned last evening by the non arrival at Weston, who was advertised to walk and talk in Corinthian Hall A telegraph dispatch was received about 4 p m, from Brocton stating that he had arrived there at 3 40 and would be in Titusville by 7 or 8 o'clock It was ascertained, however, on the arrival of the train from Corry, that the Brocton train failed to connect, and hence Weston was for once behind time

LATER

SPECIAL DISPATCH FROM WESTON.

CORRY, Feb 19—8 10 P M

Henry C Bliss, TITUSVILLE HERALD

Train delayed by snow, will be there by 10 30 Hold audience with music, and will be there sure

EDWARD PAYSON WESTON

LATER

A special train will come down and Weston with it It leaves Corry at 8 15

GEO M LYON

This dispatch was not received till the audience had dispersed, and the Hall closed The hotels were full of people from the surrounding country, whose disappointment was a good deal mollified when it was found that detention was without fault on Mr Weston's part, and especially by this last proof of his characteristic determination to meet his appointments, at whatever risk or expense.

LATER

Weston arrived at 10 10 p m last evening. He will appear at Petroleum Centre as advertised, to night, at Meadville on Friday night, and at Corinthian Hall in Titusville on Saturday night.

Reduction of Taxes.

There is no announcement of a change in the national policy which will elicit more universal gratitude from all classes, than that which proposes a reduction of taxes The Committee of Ways and Means of the House of Representatives has resolved to reduce the taxes to such an extent that not more than $150,000,000 shall be collected annually from objects of internal revenue The receipts from this source in 1865-6 was $311,000 000 Congress then abolished taxes upon articles which had, the previous year, yielded $100,000 000 of revenue, but the increase of the productions of the country including those remaining taxed, limited the reduction of the revenue for 1866-7 to $265 000,000 Congress now by abolishing taxes on at least one thousand articles entering into general use, will relieve the public from a vast amount of petty annoyance, and the industry of the country from an oppression which is unnecessary The failure to collect the tax on spirits and tobacco has fallen with severity upon the manufacturing industry of the country—Thus, a tax has to be collected upon cotton and woolen cloth, on clothing, on cutlery, glassware, crockery on furniture, on iron in all its uses and shapes, on horse shoes, on nails, and on all varieties of articles entering into general and domestic uses, to make up the deficiency in the revenue caused by the frauds in the collection of the taxes upon spirits and tobacco

The Committee of Congress has resolved that the revenue shall be confined to collection of taxes upon articles not of prime necessity, but of luxury and upon other objects in no way affecting the industry of the country The articles which it is proposed to tax, last year produced $168 000 000 If the tax on spirits and tobacco can all be collected, the number of articles to be taxed can be greatly reduced, without any reduction of revenue Including a liberal allowance for a sinking fund to redeem part of the public debt it is estimated that the internal revenue tax can be confined to the following named objects, which will yield a revenue as follows

|---|---|
| Distilled spirits | $50 000 000 |
| Fermented liquors | 6 000 000 |
| Tobacco and its manufactures | 35 000 000 |
| Stamps | 17 000 000 |
| Incomes | 20 000 000 |
| Legacies &c | 2 000 000 |
| Banks railroads &c | 10 000 000 |
| Salaries | 1 000 000 |
| Gross receipts | 7 40 000 |
| Miscellaneous | 3 000 000 |
| Fines penalties &c | 500 000 |
| Licenses and taxes on sales | 18 000 000 |
| Total | $1 [illegible] |

The receipts from customs are about $178 000 000 in gold per annum the interest on the public debt mostly in gold, is $130 000 000 leaving a surplus in gold from that source over the interest on the public debt of nearly $50 000 000 The reduction of taxes being intended to bring the revenue merely to the necessary expenses of government must compel a great reduction in the system of expenditures and the introduction of an economy in public affairs which has been unknown since the commencement of the war

AN IMPROVEMENT IN OIL MANUFACTURE—We notice, says the Cleveland Leader that Dr Clark has made an important improvement in the manufacture of petroleum oil which will immediately work a radical change in this branch of industry The present manner of distilling and treating oils is wasteful, dangerous and disagreeable and tends to impair the illuminating properties of the oil The Doctor proposes by the use of steam and a vacuum still to produce a burning fluid white and free from all impurities needing no treatment by acids or alkalies By an ingenious arrangement of a series of receivers attached to the worm of the still the oil benzine, gasoline and rhigoline will be deposited each in its appropriate receiver as in the whole process of distillation there is no a particle of the oil or gas brought in contact with the air, making the works perfectly free from danger by fire By this mode of distillation the entire product is utilized, no part is wasted In this respect it would be for the interest of the city to have this plan adopted as it would remedy the oil water nuisance and the disagreeable stench that afflicts the nostrils of our citizens every summer The Doctor further proposes from a still of the capacity of thirty barrels to distil from one hundred to three hundred barrels per day

CORNPLANTER ON THE STUMP —The House of Representatives at Harrisburg last Friday, had a speech from Cornplanter, grandson of Cornplanter, the great chief of the tribe whose name he bears The chief stood "in all the gorgeous paraphernalia of Indian exaggeration," in front of the Speaker's stand, with his interpreter beside him The burden of his plaint was the usual stereotyped "big Injun" talk, and the end and aim of the talk at the State Council fire, was stamps In a melancholy tone of voice Cornplanter informed the assembled wisdom of the State that the opportunity of seeing a live Indian chief in the Legislative Hall might never be vouchsafed to them again, and that it were better now to take a good square look at him and give him some back pay upon lands taken by the white men He seemed to have a high opinion of the dealings and doings of Geo Washington and William Penn, but his countenance did not seem to indicate the fact of the recognized presence of any of that class of persons in the crowd surrounding him

His speech began to give symptoms of having no end, when Mr Watt, of Philadelphia, rose to a question of privilege and called the previous question Cornplanter then subsided and with the dignity of a chief retired

MCCRUM'S HARNESS AND SADDLERY STORE—Stepping into McCrum's store yesterday, we noticed a big pile of new trunks and a general replenishing of stock of every kind, and passing back into the shop we found five men including the proprietor, at work in manufacturing and repairing harnesses, &c Two years ago, it was a common occurrence for McCrum to sell a dozen or more saddles a day, but now that we have good plank roads a demand has sprung up for light harness It was five years ago when Titusville numbered not more than a thousand people, that McCrum set up the harness business here, on the site of the First National Bank, and few of our business men had a better trade for fifteen miles around. Burned out twice—stock, building, household furniture and all—without weeping over the ashes or ruins, he has rebuilt and gone to work again Brisker times have come, but in the dullest, he has always advertised in the HERALD, and every body that reads it knows what he deals in and where his store is For saddlery and harness hardware, for any riding or dressing gear, for whips or spurs, or horse blankets, for trunks or carpet-bags, you have only to call and leave your order

SPRINKLE YOUR PAVEMENTS.—It was a favorite saying of Benjamin Franklin, that he could always tell where charitable Christians resided, from the fact that during the inclement season of the year, when the sidewalks were slippery and unsafe for pedestrians, they always spread ashes on the pavements in front of their dwellings Judging from the very limited number of pavements that contain this preventive of broken limbs and cracked skulls in this city, during the past and present slippery condition of the streets, one is forced to the conclusion that charitable Christians are few and far between Those who would rank with the class mentioned, or even as respectable unbelievers, should look to the passable condition of their pavements every morning, and they will also receive the thanks of every pedestrian who passes their doorsteps

Pennsylvania Railroads.

In 1846 there were not one hundred miles of railroads in operation in Pennsylvania, except those that were connected with her canals The railroads of that day had been built to accommodate the farming interest, ran through the State in one general direction, and were of very little value except to those living near their tracks Since then the State has discovered that her chief wealth is in her mines, and the Auditor in 1866 informed the Legislature "We have near or perhaps quite, 3 500 miles of railroads constructed and in actual operation" His report was made up from returns sent in by eighty four companies, authorized by law to hold an aggregate capital stock of $95 137 903, having an aggregate funded debt of $85,743 201, and a floating debt of $3 605 529 and holding property, tracks, rolling stock, &c, to the total value of $183,733 259

In 1865 these roads carried 17,407 900 passengers, and 22 710 252 tons of freight They spent, for all purposes, $42 264 573, and received $64, 999 460 During the year 385 persons were killed and 582 injured in railway accidents Of the killed 40 were passengers, of the injured 170 were passengers

In 1866 ninety two companies sent reports to the Auditor General's office The aggregate capital stock which these roads are allowed by law to hold is $123 354 579, the amount subscribed was $115 011,862 amount paid in, $193,139,081 The aggregate funded debt of these roads was $118,541,667 The aggregate floating debt, $5,033, 179 They held railroad property to the total value of $267 684 408 and real estate to the value of $5 704,697

The number of depots in the State was 1,104 of wood and water stations, 611, of engine houses and shops 298, of bridges, 1,837 of which number 1 314 were of wood, 272 of stone, and 250 of iron The companies owned 1,716 locomotives 870 first class passenger cars, 19,803 freight cars, 27 059 coal cars and 488 baggage, mail, and express cars During 1866 these companies carried 17 734 216 passengers—of whom 2,472 905 a little more than one seventh of the whole number were through passengers on main roads—and 490 095 998 tons of freight The principal items of the year's freight business were as follows Anthracite coal, 21,746 902 tons, bituminous coal 4 095 543 tons, petroleum, 4 511 215½ tons iron and other ores 11 096 528 tons, lumber 10 637 534 tons lime and limestone 8 362 889½ tons agricultural products " 8 169 062 tons

The cost of maintaining the roads and real estate of the companies in 1866 was $12 220 028, of operating the roads $19 503 690 of repairing machinery, $9 210 426, total cost $41,633 150—The total receipts from fares and freight charges were $70 999 759 The excess of receipts over expenses was $29 066 609 The increase from the receipts of the previous year was $5 090 199 It should be added that the total expenditure of the companies was less by more than a million of dollars, than in 1865

The railway accidents of 1866 resulted as follows Passengers killed, 13 passengers injured 56 servants of the road killed, 151, injured, 267, others killed 160 others injured 118 That is, one passenger out of every 2 433 448 was either killed or injured The whole number of the killed and injured was 192 less than in 1865 The railroad statistics of New York and Massachusetts show that one passenger out of every 284 377 carried during 1866 was either killed or injured—The comparison is unfavorable to Pennsylvania

Several railroad reports for 1867 have been printed at Philadelphia Less business was done by most of the roads reporting than in 1866, and receipts fell off The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore road has taken up part of its track and laid down steel rails the Chester Creek road is nearly finished, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have spent a large sum in improving the Philadelphia and Erie road, and intend to lay a double track between Erie and Sunbury, and a new road is to be built from Lewisburg up the Valley of Buffalo Creek

Lager Bier.

The vexed question as to the intoxicating qualities of lager bier was tried in Poughkeepsie a few days ago Charles Bohner was indicted for selling intoxicating liquor without a license The liquor sold was lager bier, which the defendant claimed was not intoxicating A number of witnesses were examined on both sides, and it was observed that their evidence was determined by their respective nationality all but the Teutons admitting that they were victims of the beverage The latter testified to the heavy potations with impunity, as may be seen by the following evidence

Frederick Blume had taken fifty or sixty glasses in a single day and was never intoxicated

A Wimpleburgh had been acquainted with lager bier for many years, and never was intoxicated

Lorens Ratustretter had been accustomed to drinking lager for thirty or forty years, and drinks from forty to sixty glasses per day, and never gets intoxicated

Leonard Biegel had drank lager for forty years at the rate of twenty glasses per day, and was always sober as far as he knew!

J Buntly had drunk this beverage for eighteen years, and sometimes sixty glasses in a day, without being drunk

Martin Kuhn says that he is a brewer of lager and weiss beer, and takes his own medicine at the rate of from forty to fifty glasses per day He was never drunk, but it makes him feel good!"

Henry Seitell says that he keeps a lager beer saloon, and patronizes his own bar to the extent of from twenty to twenty two glasses per day, without any intoxicating effect

Frank Hengstebeck says that he has swallowed as much as eighty glasses per day, when he is dealing in rage, and experiences no intoxication therefrom

L Buntlin said he had drank lager for nineteen years or more That a few days ago he was in company with thirteen other church members, and that each of the fourteen drank twenty eight glasses of that Teutonic beverage in one hour and a half, and not one was intoxicated

The jury, notwithstanding this weight of testimony, fined the defendant $50, thus virtually declaring that lager beer has intoxicating qualities

ESCAPED —The man Beach, who was arrested on Tuesday last on the charge of having stolen a quantity of shoes from Mr H G Southwick, in whose employ he had been for a few days past, and who was committed for trial, was placed in the lock up on Tuesday afternoon to await transportation to Meadville Yesterday morning officer Rouse went to the lock up for the purpose of taking Beach to Meadville, but he was not there On examination of the lock up, it was found that Beach had managed to remove a large stone from the west wall, leaving an aperture of sufficient size to allow the body of a man to pass through, The stone that was taken from the wall by Beach was clamped to the wall with irons, and it seems that it had been taken out by another prisoner some time ago This is the fifth prisoner that has effected his escape from the lock up this year, four having gone out by way of the door in one night, in the early part of January The last one was seen of Beach was about eight oclock on Tuesday evening at which time the lockup was visited by one of the officers, and everything was found in order

HURD has Every Saturday for Feb 22 Its contents are Foul Play, The Science of a Snow Flake, Table Talk; Police Mysteries; The Astronomers Before the Great Pyramid, Lady Ma beth by Fanny Kemble; More Days of Note; Charles Keen, Longevity; Foreign News; A London Lyric, by Robert Buchanan, 1865-6, by Alfred Tennyson, Boston Ticknor & Fields, 124 Tremont Street

The Press on the New County.

The Erie Dispatch of Monday has the following just and pertinent observations on the New County which entitle it to the thanks of the citizens of the oil regions

What the objection can be to this new county does not appear, but we presume the friends of the measure can justly charge its defeat to the opposition brought against it through lobbying legislation, and, to some extent, through members, by neighboring interests This is an influence which is too often used to defeat the best of projects. The demands of the people of Titusville and that vicinity, in the premises, are just in all respects. The present county lines do not conform to the convenience or interests of any one in the entire district, except Meadville attorneys and the county officers of Crawford county. We regret the defeat of the measure as an utter and entire disregard of the interests of one of the most prominent localities in the State, and are at a loss to know how those who undertook the measure and failed to secure its success will explain their position.

The only way to remove "this apple of discord" from our local politics is to submit the question to a popular vote, as the Constitution provides. We appeal once more to our Republican friends in the Legislature, to grant us this boon—this privilege of settling this vexed question forever—by referring it to the people's tribunal before we enter upon another political canvass

A telegram from Harrisburg to the same paper of the date of Feb. 18th, says

Mr Billingfelt moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate had defeated the bill creating a new county The motion was agreed to and the subject was then, on motion of Mr Lowry, postponed for the present The bill will again come up for discussion

DENTISTRY —Dr N L Willard is still located in the spacious and pleasant rooms over Olmsted & Jewhurst's store The merits and abilities of no other professional gentleman in the oil region are more deservedly acknowledged With the practical experience of several years, and thorough inquiry and examination into the mysteries of the teeth and the science of dentistry, he may justly ask the public confidence and patronage His laboratory is complete and the teeth manufactured are gems in their way, when inserted fit to nature, and are not inferior to the oldfashioned ones whose places they fill The Doctor thoroughly understands every department of his business, and his work will stand close examination and comparison with the best here or elsewhere

AGRICULTURAL —At the annual election for officers of the Crawford County Central Agricultural Society the following officers were chosen President, A Whipple Vice President, J Powell Treasurer George Hamilton, Secretary, J W Hannon Corresponding Secretary, A Johnson Auditors O A Hotchkiss Norman McLaughlin, D Richmond Executive Committee D O Derickson W W Johnston G W Watson, S L Ellis R Utley J B Cochran J McLean, E O. David Hugh Smith H W Mansfield Chief Marshal, George Johnston, Assistant Marshals, F S Skeels, John B Robinson

MAIL ROBBERY —It has been customary for the mail agent on the Oil Creek Railroad to throw off the mail bags from the up train at the Franklin street crossing. About one month ago on one occasion of this sort there was no one at the crossing to receive it, and the bag was stolen Yesterday morning it was found in an old shed or barn on the premises of John Meisling adjoining the railroad The bag had been cut open and its contents extracted, the letters opened and robbed and then thrown aside Of course the amount of the losses are unknown

STREET FREEBITS —The attention of the Street Committee is directed to the condition of the streets near the Post Office corner and in other sections where water has flooded in such a manner as to render cross walks almost impossible A few hours work would reopen the passages to the main sewer, and carry off the water

TO REFINERS AND TANK BUILDERS —Savery's patent "Farmer's Boiler" is just the thing for melting glue or pitch Call and see them at Smith & Hinkley's No 5, Diamond Street Titusville

NOTICE —The grand Masonic Ball will come off on Friday evening, February 21st All who are invited will please come as early as possible

A Library of Universal Information.

THE NEW

AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA:

A Popular Dictionary of General Knowledge.

EDITED BY

GEORGE RIPLEY AND CHARLES A. DANA,

AIDED BY A NUMEROUS SELECT CORPS OF WRITERS, IN ALL BRANCHES OF SCIENCE ART AND LITERATURE

In 16 large volumes 8vo

750 double-column pages in each volume

The leading claims to public consideration which the New American Cyclopædia possesses may be thus briefly stated

"1 It surpasses all other works in the fullness and ability of the articles relating to the United States

"2. No other work contains so many reliable biographies of the leading men of this and other nations. In this respect it is far superior even to the more bulky Encyclopædia Britannica.

"3. The best minds in this country have been employed in enriching its pages with the latest data, and the most recent discoveries in every branch of manufactures, mechanics, and general science

"4 It is a library in itself, where every topic is treated, and where information can be gleaned which will enable a student, if he is so disposed, to consult other authorities, thus affording him an invaluable key to knowledge.

"5 It is neatly printed, with readable type, on good paper, and contains a most copious index

"6. It is the only work which gives anything approaching correct descriptions of cities and towns of America, or embodies reliable statistics showing the wonderful growth of all sections."

Every one that reads, every one that mingles in society, is constantly meeting with allusions to subjects on which he needs and desires further information. In conversation, in trade, in professional life, on the farm, in the family, practical questions are continually arising, which no man, well read or not, can always satisfactorily answer. If for future reference are at hand, they are consulted, and not only is the curiosity gratified, and stock of knowledge increased, but perhaps information is gained and ideas are suggested that will directly contribute to the business success of the party consulted.

A Cyclopædia is pre-eminently the work for our country and generation. This is the age of steam. No one has time to grope among a hundred different works for every little fact required, without the certainty of finding it at last. With a Cyclopædia, embracing every conceivable subject, and having its topics alphabetically arranged, not a moment is lost. The matter in question is found at once, digested, condensed, stripped of all that is irrelevant and unnecessary, and verified by a comparison of the best authorities. Moreover, while only men of fortune can collect a library complete in all the departments of knowledge, a Cyclopædia worth in itself for purposes of reference at least a thousand volumes, is within the reach of all,—the clerk, the merchant, the professional man, the farmer, the mechanic. In a country like ours, where the humblest may be called to responsible positions requiring total ligence and general information, the value of such a work cannot be over-estimated.

OFFICE AT THE RED PLANING MILL

Heretofore we have in our circulars, alluded to a series of experiments being made with Nitro Glycerine and other explosives. We now announce that we have succeeded, even beyond our most sanguine expectations as regards the safety of handling, also the unprecedented force and power manifested by a skillful combination whereby the size of the Torpedo is lessened and the force, many times multiplied and are now prepared to operate on wells with any of the above named explosives—either with our improved combination or our old Combination Torpedo, which has a record of utility too well known to need mention here
